Confessed Robbery.

John Ennis, a young carpenter of this city, was arrested yesterday by Officers Knight, Ferguson and Arrington charged with entering Mr. R. E. Knight's store in the night and stealing therefrom fountain pens, revolvers, razors, knives, &c. The robbery occurred several weeks ago, since which time efforts have been made to identify the thief. Suspicion had at first been centered upon Ennis, as he had been employed in the enlargement of Mr. Knight's store. Several months ago Ennis was found in the Alexandria Light Infantry armory at night and was sent to the grand jury for allowing himself to be locked in the building. He was not indicted, and the case, it is said, was not dropped altogether, but since then his movements have been watched by the police.

Yesterday morning Ennis, after having been approached by the officers, confessed that he had committed the robbery at Mr. Knight's store and had disposed of the goods at Hugh L. Strider's second hand store in the old City Hotel building. Later Ennis, Strider and Robert Benson, Strider's clerk, were placed under arrest.

State's Attorney S. G. Brent and Police Justice Caton subsequently had a consultation with Benson at police headquarters, and he agreed to show the police where certain alleged stolen articles could be found on Strider's premises. Benson was accompanied to the store by Policemen Garvey and Beach, who recovered several articles that Ennis claimed to have stolen from Mr. Knight's store.

During the day friends of Strider offered to furnish bail in any amount for his release, but neither Judge Bailey, of the Corporation Court, nor Police Justice Caton would consider an application in the form in which it was presented.

Strider and Ennis were arraigned in the Police Court this morning.

Ennis and Strider were arraigned in the Police Court at 11 o'clock this morning. The accused were represented by Mr. Robinson Moncure and Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent conducted the prosecution.

Mr. R. E. Knight during the examination of the case identified goods found in Ennis's house and in Strider's store as his property, and stated that Ennis had confessed to the robbery. Mr. Knight, in answer to a question, said he had been approached by three residents who suggested that the case against Strider could be compromised, and an offer was made to reimburse him for his loss.

Robert Benson testified to Strider buying the stolen goods from Ennis. Ennis in his statement went into all the details of the robbery of the store, and stated that he had been approached by Strider three days after the robbery. The latter accused him of robbing the store, which Ennis at first denied. Strider suggested that he had better bring the stuff to his store, as the police suspected him (Ennis) and would search his house. On the Saturday following Ennis said he took pens, knives, pistols, &c., to Strider who gave him $4.

Strider in his defense denied Ennis's statement, and said he paid him $1.50 for some articles he brought him.

During the examination Ennis, in answer to a question of the Commonwealth's Attorney, said he had visited a poker room on the north side of King street, between Royal and Pitt. He also gave the name of the proprietor and those of some of the patrons. Ennis was asked if liquor was sold on the premises. He said it was not directly sold, but there was a "rake off" on every hand, and the money thus realized, he supposed, paid for the liquor.

Ennis was sent on to the grand jury, and Strider was fined $100 and sentenced to serve six months in jail. The latter noted an appeal. His bail was fixed at $1,000. He was later released, Mr. Robt. Ballenger becoming his surety. Ennis was taken to jail.

Deaths.

Mr. Peyton B. Dearborn, a young jeweler of this city, son of Mr. George W. Dearborn, died suddenly yesterday morning in his apartments over the jewelry store at 627 King street. He was about twenty-eight years of age and is survived by his wife and young child. He was apparently in excellent health yesterday morning, but complained of the intense heat. Mr. Dearborn had previously visited a drug store and taken medicine for the ailment from which he was suffering. He was lying on a couch, when he suddenly called to his wife that he was dying, and expired before a physician could be summoned. The deceased was a member of popular with all who knew him. Dr. Moore, the Coroner, after viewing the body, decided that Mr. Dearborn's death was caused by exhaustion from heat. The remains were for warded this morning to Annapolis, where the former home of the deceased, where the interment will be made. The pallbearers were Messrs. M. Quinn, Jos. Drew, R. F. Downham, John Lucas, C. H. Erick and Chas. Geisendaffer. Two members of the Elks and two of the Heptasophs accompanied the remains to Annapolis.

Mrs. Anna M. Fadel, wife of Mr. M. M. Fadel, a native of this city but now a resident of Ashburn, and a sister of Mrs. William A. Moore, of this city, died at the Georgetown University Hospital, in Washington, about 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The body was brought to Alexandria yesterday, and the funeral services will be held at the Second Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

Hugh L. Strider, arrested by the same officers charged with receiving stolen property, was fined $100 and sentenced to serve six months in jail. An appeal was taken.

Attractions at Luna Park.

Arrangements are under way for the celebration of Alexandria Day at Washington Luna Park on July 23. On that day the park will be turned over absolutely to the people from this city and a special programme of local interest will be arranged in order to lend the proper atmosphere to the big event. A list of sports will be one of the features of the afternoon and a large number of booklets descriptive of Alexandria and its environment will be distributed on the grounds. There will be the usual band concerts in the afternoon and evening and plans are being made to have both programmes redolent of the Sunny South and made up of the familiar airs which are so dear to the heart of the Virginian. In order to handle the large crowds which are expected to take advantage of this occasion, the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway will put a special car service into effect, running on a three or four minutes headway.

Riviera's Imperial Band will occupy the musical shell all of this week, having opened yesterday afternoon and last night with two exceptionally fine sacred concerts.

Elia Zulla, the famous of all women high wire artists, will perform some remarkable aerial feats at 3:45 and 8:45 daily. Miss Zulla comes direct from the Crystal Palace, London, where she has been featured as the star attraction. Today the Washington Elks entertained 200 orphans and an elaborate programme was arranged for the event.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late J. Frank Cook took place this morning from his home on north Washington street and was attended by many friends and acquaintances, as well as by members of the Columbia Fire Company and the Eagles of this city, of which organizations the deceased had been a member. The pallbearers were Conductors Glover and Jones, of the Pullman Car Co.; Julian Knight and Jacob Brill, of the Eagles, and Charles Duffey and John Travers, of the Columbia Fire Company. The interment was made in the Union square cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles D. Bulla, of the Methodist Church South.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary Kell took place from her late residence at 807 Cameron street at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The interment was made in the Methodist Protestant cemetery. Rev. Charles D. Bulla conducted the services. The pallbearers were Dr. M. W. O'Brien and Messrs. S. H. Lunt and W. L. Monroe, nephews of the deceased, and Messrs. E. K. and J. K. O'Brien and E. J. Alexander, grandsons.

Yesterday.

The hot wave was in evidence again yesterday. Late Saturday evening a heavy storm passed north of this city when a refreshing breeze set in from that quarter of the compass. It died out, however, about ten o'clock and a hot night followed. The heat kept many people of this city within doors yesterday, although thousands of Washingtonians passed up and down the river on steamboats. At the close of the day many from both cities visited Luna Park, and it was after midnight before they returned to their homes.

Weather Bureau reports last night were that the hot wave had been partially broken, although because of the moistness of the atmosphere in the region east of the Mississippi river the weather is still very uncomfortable. A high pressure which has developed in the northwest has brought at least temporary relief, and more pleasant conditions are predicted for tomorrow.

The Ice Supply.

As there is apprehension in Washington concerning the scarcity of ice and in order to allay such in Alexandria, the Mutual Ice Company announces that it has and shall continue to have an ample supply of ice to fill all requirements of Alexandria, as their plant is in first class condition, but fearing that this season would be unparalleled in the history of the ice business the company has made ample provisions for any break-down that it might have and under no circumstances will the price of ice be advanced to the retail trade and the citizens can rest assured that there will be no curtailment of the necessary amount of ice.

Four Persons Killed.

In attempting to get out of the way of a north bound freight train about a mile north of Orange yesterday morning two colored women and two colored girls were killed by south bound Southern passenger train No. 9. The double-track of the Southern Railway extends as far as Orange, and the women and girls, unaware of the fact that No. 9 was approaching, stepped from the track overboard and were instantly killed.

Mrs. Harding, accompanied by her husband and their little daughter, had just arrived in the city and the three were on their way from the Reading Terminal to the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. The chauffeur was arrested, but he was subsequently discharged, as Mr. and Mrs. Harding declined to prosecute, all the parties agreeing that the accident was unavoidable. Although Mrs. Harding was pretty badly shocked and bruised, it was said that she would not suffer any permanent harmful effects from the accident.

The Tuberculosis Congress.

Dr. W. M. Smith, of this city, yesterday received the following from Governor Swanson:

Dr. William M. Smith, Alexandria, Virginia: My Dear Doctor:—I have appointed you a delegate from Virginia to the American National Congress on Tuberculosis, which meets in New York City on November 14, 15 and 16, 1906. I have been urged to request you, as a physician, to make a good selection of physicians as delegates to this Congress, which it is thought will be largely attended, and it is hoped that good results may accrue therefrom. ## A Whistle Language.

They have a whistle language on Gomera island, in the Canary archipelago. They can whistle there as articulately as a Bostonian speaks. And, since they can whistle very loud, and shrill, the Gomeras can converse a long way off. A Gomera hunting a mile from home can ask his wife what there is for lunch, and if the menu does not please him, he can scold her and order a change quite as well as though he stood beside her.

The Gomeras talk in a singsong, and their whistle language reproduces the spoken one's intonations. For instance, children all over America have a taunting cry:

"Hiss for shame,
Hiss for shame,
Everybody knows your name!"

This cry is not sung. It is intoned. And so the Gomeras intone their guttural language. It would be quite easy to whistle the "Hiss for shame" cry. So it is quite easy to whistle the Gomeras' singsong language.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Beyond the Limit.

"I don't mind folks borrowing," said Miss Hodges plaintively to an old friend who was paying her a visit, "but I've got an awful trying woman for a neighbor just now. She borrows such queer things I'm most out of patience with her."

"Shears and brooms and the flour after and ironing board, I s'pose," said the guest, who had known life in a country town. "Mercy me, I don't count such things!" said Miss Hodges. "Nor my best umbrella nor my carrying knife. I can make shift to get on without them for awhile any time. But when she comes over to borrow my diary the other day so's she could keep account of the weather and her hens' eggs and so on till her husband came back from California, she having given him hers to put down his expenses and sights in, so's she could copy her record in from my book in the right place. I declare, I called it the cap sheet!"—Youth's Companion.

Take a Fresh Start.

As the horses trot down to the wire in a long, straggling line a race official bangs a bell and the whole field turns and goes back to try again. A fresh start is necessary. But it is not only on the race tracks that fresh starts are essential to the achievement of results. There are countless instances of business firms taking fresh starts after visitations of misfortune. Individuals without number daily turn their backs upon discouragements of the past and take a fresh start. The man who fails is he who is unwilling to do battle over again. An individual suffers everlasting failure if, when confronted by obstacles, he refuses to gird up his loins and take a fresh start. Fresh starts are the foes of sluggishness and lassitude and the guarantee of a brighter success than could be possible without them.—Baltimore Herald.
